Co-operate With The War Effort --- Sell Scarce Articles

During these war time days of shortages in many lines the home owner can aid the government by selling badly needed articles that are to be found around every home. Articles that the owner never uses still lie around that could be immediately converted into cash and serve a useful purpose by helping to relieve an acute shortage. Classified advertising in the Independent-Enterprise reaches over twenty-six hundred subscribers in the trade area—where could you find a better medium in which to carry your message? The price is negligible in comparison with the service rendered—as low as twenty-five cents, depending on the number of words. Now is the time to try a classified ad and be convinced of their value.
