Borgholthaus Gets Wings

MIDLAND ARMY AIR FIELD, Midland, Texas, July 22 — Highly-skilled bombardier-navigators today received their prized bombardier wings and commissions as flight officers or second lieutenants from Col. Charles H. Dawman, commanding officer of this key school of the Army Air Forces.

Back of today's graduates, each of whom has undergone eighteen weeks of the Army Air Forces toughest training and at least three hours in the air, people throughout the U. S. Air Forces deadly aerial striking force.

They are skilled as aerial gunners; they have studied and practiced dead-reckoning navigation and have learned to apply it to the problems of bombing enemy targets. They have been schooled in meterology, and have gone over maps, charts and aerial reconnaissance photographs of enemy territory until they are as familiar as the road map of Texas. They have been trained in the uses and detection of camouflage. They have studied enemy ships, learned to identify instantly enemy aircraft.

Their training in the actual art of bombing has been the essence of thoroughness. They have become family-familiar with the tools of their trade—bombsights, planes, guns and bombs. They have each dropped enough practice bombs to get that science down pat—habit-perfect. Finally, they spent hard, hard working days as a unit, camp out on the field, taking part in final tests of commander operations from a frontline airbase.

Now these young bombardier-navigators are ready for the final phase of their combat training in which they will take their places as key men in the aerial combat team of the AAF.

APPRECIATION

I wish to express my sincere appreciation to the boys of the Payette volunteer fire department and neighbors who so ably assisted in extinguishing a grass fire which threatened my property south of Fruitland last Saturday night. Had it not been for their efforts my loss would no doubt have been considerable.

Otis Smith.

Lt. Vernon Millbrook Now In Australia

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Millbrook this week received a letter from their son, Lt. Vernon Millbrook, who is now in Australia. Millbrook is a co-pilot on a Liberator and made the trip from San Francisco to Australia in a new plane. His reactions to Australia, as expressed in his letter, follows:

"Surely am a long ways from home now and wish I was back in the States even though things are not as bad here as I imagined them to be. This is Australia, the land of kangaroos, cattle and sheep. However as yet I haven't seen any of them and doubt if I will either. Really did not take so long to get here but all of us were tired when we arrived. The people have a peculiar pronunciation, some words I can't make out at all until they have repeated it several times such as the word 'right.' It has the English accent and comes out like 'Ike.' In the exchange of money they count up to seven and then like coins into the picture. Who in hell is he I wonder. And while we're on the question of money, let me say that the changing from good sound American silver and bills to shillings, sixpences, florines and pounds is like cutting teeth. For a while I thought

How to make a "Jiffy" cake

THIS CAKE is the magic answer when you're really in a hurry. Takes only a few minutes to make the batter, and a half-hour to bake. Here's the recipe:

JIFFY CAKE

1¾ cups enriched flour	⅔ cup milk
2½ tsps. baking powder	½ cup softened shortening
¼ tsp. salt	1 egg
1 cup sugar	1 tsp. vanilla extract

Sift flour; measure; sift into large bowl with baking powder, salt, and sugar. Measure milk into cup; add shortening to fill. Dump milk, shortening, unbeaten egg, and flavoring into flour mixture. Beat with rotary beater 2 to 3 minutes, or until batter is smooth. Pour batter into well greased shallow square cake pan (8x8x2). Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) 30 minutes, or until done. Serve warm or cold, plain or with sauce. Serves 8.

Cup Cakes, too, require surprisingly little time to prepare. (summertime suggestions: serve them split and covered with crushed fresh fruit, or with frosting, or with powdered sugar). The recipe:

CUP CAKES

1¾ cups enriched flour	1 cup sugar
2½ tsps. baking powder	1 tsp. vanilla extract
½ tsp. salt	1 egg
⅓ cup shortening	⅔ cup milk

Sift flour; measure, mix and sift flour, baking powder and salt. Cream shortening until smooth; gradually add sugar, creaming until fluffy; beat in vanilla and egg. Add flour alternately with milk, beating until smooth after each addition. Turn into greased muffin pans and bake in moderate oven (375° F.) about 25 minutes. Makes 18 cakes.
