FARMERS TO BE OWN SUPERVISORS

pressed to keep their own farms going. It resulted in substantially smaller association expense deductions from the payments and helped solve a critical transportation problem."

The county AAA chairman urged farmers and ranchers to call at the county office at Payette just as soon as all practices they intend to carry out are completed. Early reporting will speed the process of making out applications for payment, he said.

"The plansheet filled out in the spring lists the practices each farmer or rancher planned to carry out. It also provided space on the back for keeping a record of performance," he pointed out. "This sheet, or any record of crop acreages and land measurements involved in the practices, and a sketch map of the fields will simplify making the report."

He said an average of 15 to 20 minutes is required to make the report in the county office with the assistance of committeemen or office workers. Many farmers in the county have completed their reports already.

Receipts or weight slips for commercial fertilizers, weed control chemicals and grass and legume seeds harvested should be presented at the time of making the report as evidence of carrying out practices which involve application of materials.

All farmers who harvested grass and legume seeds are eligible for the $3.50 per acre payment for harvesting the seeds, as well as the special payments of 3½¢ per pound for red clover and 2½¢ cents a pound for alsike clover and alfalfa seed, on a clean basis, whether or not they signed up to participate in the AAA program last spring, the committeeman said.

"Our office is charged with the responsibility of assembling figures each year on wheat production so the county will receive full credit for its wheat-producing history in future crop insurance or allotment programs. We would appreciate farmers bringing in threshermen's receipts or other evidence of the total wheat production on their farms when they report their practices," Blackburn added.

BLACK CANYON TOUR MONDAY

Randall's bean fields, when a production of 30 to 35 bushels per acre is being secured on new ground. This crop offers many possibilities as a cash crop where the right production practices are followed.

For the benefit of the farm wives who made the tour Mrs. Floyd J. Holton explained how they had landscaped their home. Planning and some work on the part of the Holtons have made their place outstanding in attractiveness without very much cost.

The tour was terminated at the John T. Ray farm where in addition to visiting the pasture demonstration a bindweed eradication demonstration was given. B. E. Kuhns, extension agronomist, gave a discussion of the various noxious and perennial weeds and methods for their control.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Singley are the proud parents of an eight pound son, Connie Franklin, arriving Monday morning, August 31 at the Birmingham maternity home in Ontario, Oregon.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

By R. L. Datzell

"Now I beseech you brethren through the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speak the SAME thing, and that there be no divisions among you; but that ye be perfected together in the SAME mind and in the SAME judgment"—1 Cor. 1:10.

The Lord's people can live in perfect unity and harmony if the Bible is taken as a standard of appeal. Let us "speak where the Bible speaks, and be silent where it is silent." It is not necessary to have an interpreter in order to understand the fundamental principles in the Bible. We can have unity on what the Bible says, but not on what it does not say.

The churches were repeatedly admonished to comply with the apostles' teaching, to add nothing, and to take nothing therefrom. This warning was strictly given for all time to come. "If any man shall add unto them, God shall add unto him the plagues which are written in this book: and if any one takes away from the words of the book of this prophecy, God will take from him his part from the tree of life and out of the Holy city."—Rev. 22:18-19.

The Apostles established congregations in various cities, and set them in order. They gave the ordinances or divine service. They taught the congregations how to carry on their work. Jesus prayed (John 17:20-21) that all believers might be one. Therefore the church is essentially one; it is a brotherhood. The proposal, therefore, for unity is not only reasonable, but imperative because it is scriptural and God-honoring. Our plea to everyone: "Speak where the Bible speaks, and be silent where it is silent. In no other way can there be true Christian unity."

Friends, we invite you to attend the services of the Church of Christ in Weiser or in Fruitland. Everybody welcome at the New Testament church.
