The Man You Seldom See

Up in the locomotive cab of your train sits a man you seldom see. Perhaps you never catch a glimpse of him although he is responsible for taking you to your destination.

Union Pacific, like other railroads, has certain exacting requirements for an engineer. The man who pilots a passenger or freight locomotive has served years as a fireman... knows the function of a locomotive's many parts... is thoroughly familiar with operating rules... has passed a rigid physical examination and been periodically re-examined. In short, he is well qualified, both mentally and physically, to handle his job. Care in selecting and training employees has been a big factor in establishing the enviable Union Pacific record for safe and dependable transportation over the Strategic Middle Route, uniting the East with the mid-West and the Pacific Coast.

Another "man you seldom see" is many miles away, doing his part to speed total victory. Let's bring him home—and quickly. You can help by buying bonds—saving them—and then buying more.
