

New Plymouth
CRISS-BUSH
 On Thursday morning Nov. 9th at nine o'clock Miss Opal Criss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Criss, of New Plymouth became the bride of Bill Bush, of Ada, Okla., son of Mrs. Lela Bush. At a ceremony which took place at McLaughlin Heights Catholic church, Vancouver, Wn. with Father McNarney officiating at a single ring ceremony. The bride wore a suit of pearl grey with black accessories, and the groom wore a grey suit. Mr. and Mrs. James Todd, friends of the couple were their attendants. Mrs. Todd wore a black suit with white accessories and Mr. Todd wore a brown suit. Mr. and Mrs. Bush arrived Tuesday for a brief visit in the Clyde Criss home before leaving for Missoula, where they plan to make their home. Mrs. Bush is well known in this vicinity having taught the school at Falk near New Plymouth and one year at Ola. She has been employed for the past three years in the shipyards at Portland, Oregon. Mr. Bush received his education in Oklahoma and served three years in the army overseas.

Mrs. Jeanette Stokesbury and Mrs. Bob McCarthy and children were Tuesday evening supper guests at the V. M. Cookson home.

Frank Sairman Dies
 Frank Sairman, born at State-center, Iowa in 1871, passed away at Boise on Dec. 5. He was one of ten children, the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Sairman. He is survived by one brother, Fred, of Boise. 14 nieces and nephews. Funeral services will be held Friday at 1:30 p.m. at the Summers Funeral Home in Boise and burial will be in Parkview cemetery beside his parents and two brothers. He came to Idaho in 1898 and was never married. Mr. Sairman was janitor at the school, Congregational church and Pioneer Hall at New Plymouth and he taught vocational training until 1932 when he went to Wilder and bought an apple orchard. He lived there until a month ago when he was stricken with stomach ulcers.

Apple Blossom Changes Hands
 The Apple Blossom, (cuisine and dining room) operated since last spring by Mr. and Mrs. Matt Gillman, was sold effective this morning to Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Biebert, recently of Emmet but formerly of Junction City, Kas.

The new owners plan operating the place along the same lines that their predecessors did. Both are experienced in the business. Mrs. Biebert having operated an officers club and similar eating establishments for many years and Mr. Biebert having spent some time in the ice cream business.

Mr. and Mrs. Gillman plan remaining in Payette. Mr. Gillman said Tuesday if his present plans materialize he will build a new building here and enter into a new line of business shortly after the first of the year.

GRIFFITHS WILL BE HOME IN FEBRUARY
 Mrs. F. W. Griffiths received word recently from her son, Sgt. Kenneth Griffiths who is in Switzerland that he expects to be home in February. He has spent a year and a half overseas.
